Major General G. D. Barker, whose period Mercy, Lord; Hymns, Nos. 183 & 104; of command in Hongkong is expiring, will shortly become a lieutenant-general, and thus be eligible for a higher command. In the old days, says The World, before he donned his general's tunio, he was an excoedingly popular Staff officer at Portsmouth and Devenport, and many of those who then served with him will be pleased to learn that his command in China has been so successful that there is every prospeet of his getting something better in due course. Major-General Wilsone Black, appointed to H.M.S. Undaunted, to date is a graduate of the Staff College, and has been in command of the troops in the Belfast District since October 1893. W. Bobinson and Company. THE naval facilities in Hongkong, as may be inferred from Reuter's telegram of last night and the paragraphs appearing in the Home papers, are receiving a good deal of attention in England. The World, in a increased. Dredging operations at Chatham, Portsmouth, and Devonport, new docks and So Borril won the Hongkong Challenge jetties at Portamouth and Keyham, docks Cup for good and all, writes 'The Chiel and moles at Gibraltar, to say nothing of much-needed improvements at Hongkong, and elsewhere, will soon run away with the money.' There is no particular indication of the proposed improvements at Hongkong, but we have reason to believe that a very large extension at the Royal Naval Yard is in contemplation. The yard is altogether inadequate for present requirements; and as the importance of the China Station is now more generally recognised by the authorities at Home, as is testified by the strengthening of the Station by modern vessels of the best type, it has been found that the plant is antiquated and unsuitable for effecting the repairs on board these vessels, satisfactorily and expeditionsly. The work could be done at Kowloon Dook, but there appears to be a dent of the Dock Company; the Naval Yard must necessarily be extended probably by reclaiming the foreshore; and it is deemed present stored entirely on the Kowloon side of the Harbour should be kept on the Island. The proposed pier at Kowloon, alongside of which warships could go for coaling purposes—a much better arrangement then the present inconvenient and indescrib-Town. Sir William, who was equally ably dirty one-is still only talked about. A grant was made a considerable time ago to enable the Naval Authorities to erect this pier, but it has not been commenced, and there are no indications that it will be commenced soon. Then again, in spite of all the talk about sending out a better vessel to replace the Victor Emanuel as receiving ship, nothing has been done. At one time, it was intended to send out the Nelson which would have materially strengthened the Station, then the old troopship Malabarwas mentioned. After all neither of these bability of the Victor Emanuel going into Dook for a thorough overhand. This is very questionable policy. The old Victor has served her day, and might well be replaced by a vessel not only more suitable for the accommodation of large bodies of men changing ships, but more useful for the

HONGKONG FIRE INSURANCE CO...

LIMITED. The Hon. J. J. Keswick presided. There remuneration as before. were present-Hon. C. P. Chater, Mesore J. S. Moses, S. G. Bird, C. J. Holliday, and J. H. Lewis (Cousulting Committee). G. T. Vettch (Secretary), Hon. A. McConachie, Mesers E. F. Alford, J. D. Humphreys, J. C. Peter, B. Byromjee, J. M. is all the business. G. Pereira, J. M. E. Machado, H. Humphreys, Ho Tung, C. S. Taylor K. McK.

Ross, V. H. Descon, A. G. Morris, R. C. Wilcox, and W. Parlane. The Secretary read the notice calling the mesting.

The Chairman said-The report and accounts having been in your hands for some days with your permission we will take them as read. In future I hope we may be able to present the accounts to you earlier, as the closing of Agencies in the United Kingdom will now obviate the necessity of waiting a considerable time from London. All liability in connection with the British Agencies cuased on the 31st December last, Our Agents in London, Mesars Matheson and Co., took an enormous amount of trouble in connection with the establishment of these Agencies and though they are naturally disappointed their efforts did not meet with the success which we at first anticipated they have, in winding up the business of the company, given every care and attention stronger and better able to support each to our interests and succeeded in closing earlier than we could have expected, and our thanks are due them for all they have done. Turning to the accounts, I regret we are unable to give a dividend for 1893 equal to that of 1892, for what with the reduc fons in rates in every direction and an increase in the number of fires our profits for 1893 were greatly diminished as you will have noticed from the accounts. 1894 also was an unfortunate year for us, as after debiting some heavy losses at asveral of our agencies the credit balance is reduced $167,223.19 against $238,450.47 the previous year, From this balance have to be deducted claims in hand amounting to $52,000 so that practically speaking we have not more than a lakh of dollars. We trust, however, that any further losses may be light under 1894 policies, and that we may not have to make a call on the Reserve Fund to provide an equal dividend to the present. The outlank for the future is, think, distinctly better than it has been for some time past. Fire Insurance Companies have found that the low rates which - have ruled for some time past result ed in heavy losses, and I am glad to note movements in various directions for increases in rates. We are now working on the lines of nine years ago and I feel confident that if shareholders will-give us their loyal support there is a brighter future before this Company. I shall be very pleased to answer any questions any shareholder may put to me before moving the adopting of the report and statement of accounts.

- No questions were asked, and the Chairman moved the adoption of the report andaccounts.

Mr J. D. Humphreys -- I beg leave to second the adoption of the report and statement of accoun's as presented to you.

The Hon. A. McConachie-I beg to prothat the retiring Committee-the Hon. C. P. Chater, Messrs Moses, Bird, That the Unofficial Members of Council do Helliday and Lewis-be re-elected. Mr J. C. Peter seconded.

Mr Byromice moved and Mr Machado seconded the re-election as auditors of Messra Fullerton Henderson and A. Coxon.

The Chairman-Gentlemen, that concludes the business of the meeting and l am very much obliged to you for your attendance. Dividend warrants will be . ready on Monday next.

NATIONAL BANK OF CHINA, LD. A meeting of the shareholders of the National Bank of China, Limited, was held today at the offices of the Bank, Victoria Buildings, Queen's Road. Mr D. Gillies prosided, and there were also present Mesers. Stolterioht, Kwai Hoi Chuen, (Directors), J. Buttery, (a member of the London Committee), J. H. Cox, W. H. Potts, Captain Burnie, Chan Tat Mann, Lee Yow Mo,

Chow Lui Wee, and a large number of Chinese shareholders. The Chairman said :- Your Directors, in submitting to you the Accounts and Report for the past half year, are happy to be able to show what may be considered a satisfactory result. The accounts having been in your hands for some weeks, you will have been enabled to see how it is proposed to apply the balance standing at the credit of our Profit and Less Account. We think it. very necessary to commence the formation ! part of our earnings to the oredit of such a fund. It will redound to the stability and credit of the Bank, and is an earnest of our intention to add to its strength and solidity : a policy which we feel sure will be warmly endorsed by all the sharehelders. We intimated to you last year our intention of hay. ing a small Note issue, and we have now to inform you that it has been an unqualified success, and, with full consideration for the safety of the public and the oredit of the Bank, we keep ample Cash funds against it. With many difficulties against us, we yet feel satisfaction in being able to assure you that the Bank continues to make good progress, one of the first principles of sound Banking being kept steadily in view, and that is not to carry bad debts. The scare caused by the plague | That the costs of surveying and lawyer's impeded business here very considerably during the Summer, added to which the effect of the war has been to cause a consitrade, and if the war continues much longer the results on business generally will be still more serious in the future ; but we aincerely trust that hostilities will soon cease and that the results of peace will be inorensed trade, extended communications and a keener appreciation by the ruling powers in China of Western methods and ideas. We keep our expenses at as low a That the China-Japan Wer is now getting minimum as is consistent with efficiency Bank's interests by cautions management and predent supervision. With move that the Accounts and Report be

The ninth anniversary of the Missions to Seamen (Hongkong Branch) of the above Society was hold on Friday tevening at the Seamen's Reading Room (Sailor's Home). The chair was occupied by the Chaplain, Rev. A. G. Goldsmith. The Report shows that 3153 members have been enrolled since the commencement of the Society. Lieutenant Risk, R. N. ralso gave an interesting address, which was very attentively listened to. In the course of his remarks, he said-When I joined the Navy 25 years ago it was a very hard thing to become the member of a Temperance Society: but now a man is not hunted down or thought a poor lot because he is a testetaller. This shows that Temperance men can hold their own and that their cause is advancing. Temperance is better for health as is shown by the fact that Assurance Societies accept tectotal lives on better terms than even those of moderate drinkers. It does not interfere with good fellowship .-- good fellowship of a wholesome kind, There are three classes of drinkers. First the man who cannot avoid taking too much; escendly the man who sometimes may exceed but who generally can stop when he has had enough: and thirdly, the truly moderate drinker who never takes in excess. Undoubtedly the first should obtain for every reason. The second ought to consider the matter seriously; if he did so would see that total abstinence is the wisest course. The third. though not under any necessity for himself, may yet become an abstainer for the sake of these around him who are not capable of looking after themselves.

Mr Walter Tarn (Hon. Lay Helper) thanked the speakers. The meeting closed with a Hymn and the Benediction.

To-day's battle has been disappointing in several respects; first, it turns out pleasure to walk round and admire the be a more preliminary, for this eastern as the island and the West forts; secondly, before the main body of the Army had time to get into action; and thirdly, the Japaneas committed a lamentable blunder which caused them needless loss.

> We were roused at 4 a.m. by cries of ' fire ;' the house next to that occupied by the correspondents was in flames, and we had to ecramble out in a hurry, losing all the small articles left about when we had gone to bed-writing materials, food, etc.; for in a very few minutes half the village was on fire, and before daylight it was entirely consumed, with the exception

About six o'clock there was light final match was received with satisfac- enough to begin, and our left wing battery fired a salute right into the enemy's trenches on Rankakoshan. Then for half the next few weeks should produce many an hour the cannonading was lively on outdoor gatherings of a healthy and in- | both sides. The Japanese concentrated their fire on the one point, while the Chinese, probably guessing that our forces were spread out over a wide area, tried to distribute their shells impartially all over the country. Whether they ever simed at the attacking batteries I do not know. but I am certain they never hit them. The Japanese infantry made its way by detour along the deep-cut channels uf mountain atreams until within 500 yards of the Chinese battery, approach ng it on three sides, and then a perfect hail of musketry drove the defenders away before the bayonet charge had well begun. This position taken, the Sendai Division proceeded, one part by the direct route over the hills, and the other part by a circuitons but fairly easy path round the left fringe of 53 the range, passing under Rankakoshan and down the valley towards the south bight of Waihaiwei Bay. We took the direct route, expecting to see the first of the fighting. On our way, a huge shell, four feet long and ten inches thick, weighing four or five hundred pounds, came from one of the forts (or perhaps from a ship in the harbour) right over the creet of the hills, 1500 or 2000 feat high, and dropped on the sandy plein in mid-valley near us, at least five miles from where it had been fired. It did not explode. A three-inch shell whizzed over our heads and burst a few yards behind us, and others were coming into the valley as we climbed up the hill sesward. Evidently the forts or their surroundings were gatting a hot from the harbour, and hurried on to see the battle. After about an hour's mountaineering, over a snowy and for waste practically pathless, we reached a splondid position just above the sea-forts, on a range of mountains where three redoubts had been recently built to protect the landward approaches. Away before us lay the harbour, with the ships and island forts, and the city and west land batteries ten miles away, fighting like rate in a trap, with the Japanese fleet ontside on our right and the Japanese army swarming all over the hills and valleys round us. The Kumamoto men had captured the bighest redoubt of all, on our extreme right, shout the same time and in the same manner as the Sendai men had 'rushed' Rankskoshan. Then they had turned the guns of the battery, as well as their own artillery, on the forts in front and left of them, extending in a line towards and past where we now stood. The three hill forts were captured just before our arrival, and we saw the four sea forts taken. The island forts and the Chinese fleet opened fire on the Japanese army; the Japanese fisot outside at once engaged them, in order to relieve the land forces : the western forts, too far away to touch us, tried a few shots at the ships ontside; and at any minute we could expect the Chinese army.

They rushed triumphantly along the deep-cut roads and behind the foot-hills from fort to fort as the enemy fied, and then emerged on an open plain near south bight, pursuing the fugitives along the beach road to Weihaiwei city. At the same time the Sendai men were streaming out from the left valley past Raukakushan, flanking the line of retreat. This double exposure was seen from the signal station on the summit of Liukung island, and at once some of the light-draft gunboats were ordered into the bight. There, for a few minutes, their GALLANT CONDUCT OF RED CROSS quick-firing guns did most deadly execution; before the unwary soldiers had time to gain cover, eighty of them had fallen, Now came a touching incident of heroic devotion. Desultory firing at long range continued during the afternoon, but for some resson the Chinese gunners seemed to do nothing compared with what they might have done. After midday we never saw them fire on the hills at all, but only on the captured sea forts, though the hilltops were covered with Japanese who afterwards descended in thousands, within clear sight and range of the enemy's heavy guns, to inspect the forts and walled camps near the shore. At dusk, we climbed back over the hills to this village, arriving long after dark, anxious to find a resting place and a know what will be done to morrow.

AFFAIRS AT THE CAPITAL. Tientain, Feb. 13. Peking advices state that an increasing celing of insecurity obtains in the city The Government "doth protest too much about its ability to maintain order; all the evidence obtainable distinctly points the other way. Sheer funk is prevalent in the civil population and threatens to culminate in panic. One day last week, while two foreign ladies were walking in Legation street, one of them was assaulted by a Mongol soldier, while the native guard told off the Government for the protection of the Legations looked on and grinned. The lady took refuge in the Russian Legation until her husband came up: the latter administered a sound threshing to the Mongol and got so much satisfaction out of the incident. Whether post hoe or ergo hoe I cannot say, but Lieut. Prince Lieven leaves Tientein to-morrow with 40 Russian sailors as a Legation guard. The Ministers are understood to have united on this question and to have everborne the opposition of the Tenngli Yamen, so that all the guards will probably go up this week or pext. Col. (From Chinese Sources) HAPPY NEWS FOR DEFEATED CHINESE.

Tieutsin, 2nd March Prince Kung has obtained a Decree of Mercy from the Emperor that officers and soldiers defeated in battle are not to be decapitated if it be proved that they have not committed excesses while retreating, but are to be given the chance of retrieving themselves. Orders have therefore been issued to all the Generals of divisions at the front to post the above edict in the various camps. After a defeat, soldiers are to form again according to their respective regiments, at any spot previously indicated by their Generals. > According to information received from Baku, a number of private individuals, with a capital of only some £4,000, have, with the assistance of a Russian engineer. discovered some rich oil beds at a place called Sarai, about ten miles from Bake. The drilling tools struck oil in large quantitles at less than 100 ft. from the surface. This discovery, and the opening-out of the still richer oil fields at Grosny, near Vladikarkaz, seems to show that the quantity of cil still to be obtained in the Caucasus, and on both sides of the Caspian, is practically inexhaustible. REALLY ORIGINAL. TIME Baturday ofternoon. George returns early from office to find his wife surrounded by volumes of Academy Pictures.

Bhs speaks:-The Amusement Club means to give a Fancy Ball after all, George, it's to be on the 20th. That's not very long real notice, seeing that they particularly want people to wear fancy dress, not just powder or Windsor uniform and so on : I wish I could make up my mind what to go as.

indeed, George, I can't wear my old dress. I haven't got one. Oh, you mean that Dresden China thing? Why I wore it to rage, it was utterly done for before I picked it to pieces. I had been to at least half a dozen balls in it, three at any rate, and I didn't want to be known as the perpetual Dreaden Chinawoman. Besides it was made for a Colico Bell, and I wanta handsomer dress now, silk or velvet, or something. I can't go tripping about always in blue and pink cotton as though were seventeen, and I wonder that you want me to, for it is always who talk about mutton and sauce. and make jokes of that if you think people dress the least bit too young. It was a very pretty little frook ; I got the chintz at Whiteley's, stripes of tiny rosebude on a pale blue ground Amy Forbes made me rather a sweet working out of the panniers of it. But I want. something really original and out of the way for this time; I've been looking through all these books of pictures trying to get ideas, but artists must be stupid, for there's bardly a figure here that would make a really telling fanov dress. Look, George, most of 'The Spirit of the Summit' has a levely face, and the name would be awfully effective in the printed list, but that arrangement over her head is like an ayah's chudder, and I suppose all those draperies are meant to be very artistic, but there isn't the least fit or style sbent them, and I should think one would be very likely to catch cold. Here's a pretty picture. 'The Honeymoon' by Marous Stone, how would this do? My dress would be very soft white muslin,

Some sort of a game isn't a bad dress; how would golf do? Only I suppose one would have to be in grass green and that's not prefty. I've seen a man got up as Billards, green cloth, all trimmed with pockets and balls, a one and a rest in his hand and the pool basket on his head. Wouldn't you like that, George? THE HANDFUL OF THINGS WE KNOW Beveral years ago an American homorist and poet published some verses called 'Little Breeches. This was an odd name given to a very small boy who was caught out in a fremendous snowstorm, and finally found in some hay quite a distance from the house. However the bby got there bothered everybody to explain. It was certain he never could have walked. So his father said the angels must have done it; 'they ust stooped down and toted him to where it was safe and warm, he said.' The poetry about it (supposed to have been written by the youngster's father) starts off in this way :-

> I don't so much on religion.
> I never ain't had no show; But I've a middling tight grip, sir, On the handful of things I know.

That's it; the handful of things we know. There aren't many of 'em, but there are a few. And one of them is this: That for a hundred results there is only one cause. Nature develops and makes différences : never a new force.

Here, for example, is an incident which shows our meaning. About Christmas, 1889, Mr E. B. Wright had an attack of influenza. Previous to this he had always been strong and hearty. Well, he got over the influenza; still, it had given him (as ho says) 'a snake.' After this he got along fairly well, until February of this year 1692) when the influenza attacked him again. This time the malady 'meant business.' Nearly every bone and muscle in his body ached like sore teeth. His skin was hot and dry, and to bed he was obliged to go. For sixteen days he was under a doctor. At the end of that time he found himself alive and that was about all you could say for him.

In his letter he goes on to tell what happened next, 'I had a foul taste in the mouth,' he says, and teeth and tongue were covered with a thick slimy phlogm. My wife says my tongue was like an oyster shell, and I'm sure it was the people wear such floppy vague sort of rough as a nutmeg grater. What I ate, which draperies! they wouldn't be at all nice for wasn't much, gave me pain in the chest and dancing even if one could make them keep | sides. After a mouthful or two I felt full and blown out, and I used to awall to a great size. By and by a hacking cough set in and my breathing got short and quick. At night I lay for hours grasping for breath, and often coughed so was afraid I should burst a blood vessel. I got weaker and was like a broken-winded horse. The doctor said it was asthma, but he wasn't able to relieve it. . Although I live only two minutes' walk from the factory where I work, I

Now let us see how this illustrates the Romeo and Juliet, or Romulus and Remus? proposition we started out with. For almost three years Mr Wright was ill with what seemed like a series of different diseases. He had the influenza twice, the asthma once, and another disease which he gives no name to-even if he recognised it. Look for a moment at the variety and incongruity of the pains and troubles he mentions, and he doesn't describe them all, either. You would fancy he had half and I think you'd look rather well in one of a dozon ailments at least. Yet he had but one those old-fashioned coats with a high cravat; -indigestion and dyspensia-of which all bodily vone hair wouldn't have time to grow as disturbances (influenza included-a blood dislong as that, but I suppose you could get a case) were symptoms. All came out of the stomach, and when Soigel's Syrop set that You don't feel inclined to make a fool of right the others quietly departed. What, then, is one thing of the handful of things we know?' Answer: That nearly all sorts of discases are really symptoms of indigestion and dyspepsia, and that Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup cures it. Double that fact up in your fist and hold on
